“ This is mom's story that I'm sharing - I graduated from L & C in '74 and before I left for SIUC that fall, I encouraged mom to enroll in music at L & C. She had always taught piano and organ, played for church, accompanied church choirs, etc., so I knew she could handle the material. Her first day of music classes, she was looking out the window of Gillman Hall when she saw a young man pull up on his motorcycle and come into the building swinging his helmet. "Who's that," she asked one of the other students. "That's our music teacher, Harlan Hock," they replied. I don't know what her reply was but she was definitely startled! After that inauspicious beginning, she and Harlan became good friends, a friendship which continued until his untimely passing. Deepest condolences to all. He will be missed! - Mary Heeren for Charlotte Heeren

“ I could never find the words to express what Harlan means to me.

I was raised in foster care and I was fortunate enough to find a home in the L&C Music Department. I am not a gifted musician, and being self taught, I wasn't sure if I was good enough to take college classes. Harlan told me, "Where there's a will, there's a way", so I took Class Piano with Cheryl Hoch, and Basic Music Theory with Tom Crammond. I made good grades, and Harlan gave me a scholarship so I could afford to keep taking classes. Everybody in the music department was wonderful, and I was able to get a job working as a stagehand for Roger Haynes at the theater. When Harlan asked me to teach in the Music Prep Program, I was honored, but I didn't think I could do it. Harlan reassured me, and I ended up teaching for over 20 years. My daughter was born when I started teaching, and she used my office to study in when she grew up and took classes at L&C herself.

I will always cherish my memories of building sets, and running lights and sound for several productions of the Music Department. I had so many wonderful students who went on to be better musicians than myself. Working with Harlan, Roger, Bud Summers, and Stan Chytil, was the greatest time of my life.

The L&C Music Department was more than just a department, it was a family.

We love you Harlan, and we will greatly miss you!

“ To the Harlan Hock Family,
I am sorry to hear of Harlan's passing recently. I was 8 years old when my mother blessed me to give me piano lessons under the instruction of Harlan. He was a very patient person to work with a very impatient 8 year old boy. It was almost a year after taking lessons that I could finally start playing due to Harlan teaching me music first. To this day I think of him when I sit down to play. I learned so much from Harlan besides music. He taught me music, memorization skills, how to perform at a recital in St Louis once a year with a memorized piece of music, and most importantly how to be a gentleman. I stopped taking lessons when I reached high school and started playing in the high school bands at the age of 15. I lost my father at the age of 18 my senior year in high school and I had lost contact with Harlan until I reached the age of 24 and sent an invite to Harlan to my wedding. I entered the church from the back of the church and I spotted Harlan who had made it to our special day and it truly touched us by his presence.

Thank you to Harlan's family for sharing a wonderful person whom shaped my person at a very young age.

“ Dear Georgiann, Kim, and Family,
I was so saddened to hear of Harlan's death. He was the person who introduced me to the piano and a lifelong love of music. Having taken lessons from him from age 5 to 19, he became a very important influence in my life. He was my teacher, my mentor, and in later life, my friend. I will always be grateful for everything I learned from him and will continue to think of him every time I sit down at the piano. "His song has ended, but the melody lingers on..."

“ Such a sad day to lose a teacher, friend and gift to music and inspiration on July 30. He prepared me to pass the audition to get into the music department at SIUE as well as prepared me to be able to remember and successfully accomplish my required piano recital for graduation. He became great friends with my husband as we three took motorcycle trips to the cabin on the Lake of the Ozarks. Then we met

Georgian and all became great friends for life. We have lost a true friend, but the good memories live on--as well as his love of animals and music. We miss you, Harlan. Hugs to you Geo.'

“ I'm saddened to hear the news about Harlan. I had Harlan for a couple of classes when I started at Lewis and Clark. Though it was a short time under his instruction, he still left a big impact on me. He was always jovial, very helpful and encouraging. The type of professor you want your first year of college. He'll be dearly missed. - Douglas Raffety

“ He was an incredible teacher and musician, and a wonderful person.

I was a student in late 80s, and blessed to have him as music theory teacher at Lewis and Clark.

I learned more from that man in a year than I had combined all my years prior to having him for a teacher.

Blessings and condolences to his family and loved ones.

“ I met Harlan when I went to Lewis and Clark Community College in the Fall of 1980. I was inquiring about going back to School to get a degree in Music. Harlan was so warm and understanding. He immediately told me he could help me get enrolled and maybe get some financial aid. This was a blessing because I was newly married and had a four-month-old daughter. Subsequently, I graduated from L&C in 1984 and went on to SIUE to get a BM and MM. In 1986, Harlan hired me as a part time music instructor at L&C. I taught part time at L&C for 16 years. I ended up having a successful teaching career and if not for Harlan I would have never made it through school nor would I have ever become a teacher. Harlan and I remained friends for all these years and enjoyed times together musically and socially. I owe almost all my success in life to Harlan. If Harlan had not taken me under his wing, I would have never pursued my further education and had the success and fulfillment I have enjoyed! What is most remarkable about my story is Harlan did this for probably hundreds of students at L&C. Harlan helped my daughter when she attended L&C and she went on to Webster where she graduated with a BM. Harlan was the best music teacher that I have met in my entire life and the best teacher I ever met. Harlan personified all the best attributes of a great teacher and/or counselor. He helped everyone who ever went to L&C in all ways possible! Besides being our teacher, he was a counselor, a tutor, a friend, and advocate for all of us. The story of the success of L&C Music department is simply Harlan Hock's devotion to music, education, and his enduring friendship to all his students! He was the Best of the Best! I will miss him! Still to this day when I think about my life and good times, I always think of Harlan. Thank You, Harlan! God Speed! Tom Crammond
