“ Alice was lifelong friends with my Grandmother, Fran Wilcut. I remember going to church with Grandma at Faith Baptist, and it was always such a treat to see Alice. She recently came to my dad's visitation in Brighton, and it was so touching to see her and be able to hug her again. I think of her often. I know my Grandma was waiting for her and welcoming her with open arms! Thinking of your family during this time.

As long as I can remember, each Christmas morning she would be with us, washing dishes, wanting to be helpful at the Christmas breakfast, to be part of the 'crew'.to be with the family. I will miss her gracious manner, her dry wit and her smile.
