“ No one loved life more than my Auntie Ann. I grew up wanting to be like her because she had so much fun. She was always up for an adventure and she was always happy to have others accompany her. She could play almost any kind of card game and she did it well. She played golf well into her 80's and she kept scores in her head because “some of those old women cheat.” She absolutely loved desserts. Up until recently she had double desserts with her dinner every night. She loved her family to the max and she would say, “I love you more” whenever you left her. She was one of a kind and she will be missed by many. Pam McPherson Carter

“ We adored this beautiful lady who was such a big part of our lives growing up. Her infectious laughter lit up the room with that big ole smile on her face! She loaned Glenn and I money to elope with and she was there when I had my first child. She always claimed him part hers. I know God welcomes her home with open arms and there is a vast crowd of family and friends enjoying her once agsin.
Love you forever Annie,
