“ My dad had a great smile and the goofiest grin when he wanted to make you smile! It is so nice to read these comments and to see how he inadvertently touched other peoples lives. His yard was one big way to do that. He took great pride in his yard. I was just thinking about my rose bush and wondering when I can prune it and thought I will ask dad. Knowing that I cannot do that anymore breaks my heart. But he did give me the love of gardening and digging in the dirt! When mom would give me the option of helping her in the kitchen or help dad in the yard, I chose the yard. I guess dirt was more fun to me! :) Every time I see or hear a bird, see a flower peeking out of the ground or watch a squirrel scampering up a tree I will think of my dad.

“ I met him through my boyfriend, his grandson, Kevin. I can say he was a very wonderful, caring, and loving gentleman! He could get you to laugh, or smile no matter how nervous or blue you were feeling. I'm so glad you are no longer in pain, and I will miss you. Thank you for lighting up my world for those few times I got to meet you.

“ Leroy was always smiling, one of the nicest men I have ever known. My thoughts & prayers are with the family at this difficult time. Tammy Bushong Heeb

Tammy Heeb - February 06, 2017 at 08:24 PM

Thanks Tammy. He was smiling because he was happy to be visiting Aunt Alice's farm. Every trip we made to Missouri was another great memory that we shared. Just being around you and your family was what kept mom and dad coming back each year. We loved our summer visits especially on the 4th of July.

“My dad enjoyed hunting and fishing and just being outside as much as possible. He loved his yard and planted a variety of flowers every year. He and my mom planted 90 more tulips last fall in the yard around the house. Drive by his house in Bunker Hill and see his final gift of beauty for everyone to enjoy. Thanks Dad for all your hard work making our house so colorful each year.

I always enjoyed your dad's flowers in the spring it would make me smile every time I would drive by and see all the tulips that was a lot of hard work Little Holland in Bunkerhill so sorry for your loss and thinking and praying for your family at this difficult time trying to focus on your happy memories time heals May you find peace

dmbruckert@yahoo.com - February 06, 2017 at 08:17 PM

Thank you! I think he planted those extra 90 tulips for a reason. Maybe it was his "going away" present for everyone.

Steve Luck - February 06, 2017 at 09:23 PM

Every time I saw him he was smiling. Sure a nice man. So sorry for your loss.
