He was widely respected for his work, beloved by the numerous patients and families he cared for, and was recognized with Alton Memorial's prestigious Chairman's Award, among other honors. He had very high standards and was generous with his knowledge, educating those around him, always. He was devoted to his work and took pride in providing the best care possible. He used to say 'God was the great physician. I'm just trying to help.'

He loved animals especially dogs, cats, and birds. He owned many collies, malteses, canaries, and rescued cats, who brought him great joy. He was an avid reader, sharing a love for mystery thrillers with his children. He was a great storyteller and animated narrator, reading aloud stories to his children, especially the nativity gospel and 'A Christmas Carol'. He loved motorsports. He followed Formula 1, traveling to Monaco to see the Gran Prix and attended the Driver's dinner. That led to a love for NASCAR. He attended many races and truly enjoyed watching Jeff Gordon. He was an enthusiastic sports fan his whole life, starting as a boy, when he listened to the White Sox on the radio. He especially enjoyed basketball, following Larry Bird and the Celtics, and baseball, with a deep passion for the New York Yankees. He loved musical theater, especially the music of Andrew Lloyd Webber, holding season tickets to the Muny and traveling to New York City to see shows like The Phantom of the Opera and Cats. He was man of deep faith, widely remembered as a lector, reading during mass, and singing in the choir at both St. Patrick's and St. Mary's.

“ My sincere sympathy to the family of Dr. Cornell. Alton was truly blessed to have such a well respected and dedicated surgeon for so many years. As a patient myself in 1984 at age 36 he followed thru on my diagnosis until he retired in 2003. Now at age 74 I know you don't find doctors like that anymore! RIP Doctor Cornell JOB WELL DONE !

“ Dr Cornell was our ‘family’ surgeon. We loved him greatly. I also had the privilege of standing next to him for a Community Choir performance where he sang bass with great enthusiasm. He was a one of a kind person and I’m glad for the knowledge that we’ll meet again.
