He was also a huge jazz fan, who would love to attend concerts and listen to big band jazz.

Elliott was a lifelong member of the Christian Church, with most of those years at the First Christian Church in Alton, where he served as Elder, Deacon, Sunday School Teacher, and Choir member. He was known as the “Gum Man” for all of the countless sticks of gum he gave away to children after every worship service. “ Elliott was my first friend in Alton. He remained a true and steady friend. Jack and I both knew him as an educator and lover of people. I will say about Elliott what he once told me about Jack. He was a "Prince of a Man." His dedication to the Lord and the church never wavered. I wish we had had a last time to tell him how much he was loved and respected.

“ Uncle Shelton had such a zest for life. His smile would light up a room. I remember he & Uncle Harold singing while Paddi played the piano after Dad's funeral. That was so special. My mom will miss her "little" brother. Uncle Shelton will be missed by us all. Love & prayers to Aunt Betty, John, Julie, Cindee & all the rest of his family

“ My Buddy Uncle Shelton always wanted me to play jazz on the piano & I still play his rendition of Tea for Two. When he sang The Lord's Prayer at my wedding, it gave me chills. He was such a special, unique man and all of us who loved him will feel a void. God bless Aunt Betty, John, Cindee and families. Lots of love, Paddi
