“ I have so many memories with Ken. He wasn't just a teacher or mentor, but was like a father to me, and I'm sure to many others. We didn't always agree, but he always had my best interests at heart and wanted me to just succeed. He loved to tell the history of his house and how it had changed hands. I helped bust out the floor in the back area to make the stairwell that went down to the garage, which I believe he said was the old carriage house. The house was a constant project he enjoyed working on.

I will miss his advice, stories, debating with him, his encouragement and support, and spending an entire day sitting on the porch when I could visit just catching up. I learned so much from him, not just how to do some minor house repairs and fun demolition, and will always cherish those memories. I'm thankful that he was in my life.

My heart breaks for the family, and I offer my deepest sympathies to you all.
