Oh my wonderful and beautiful son. I love you so much- You were and are my rock, my v=best friend, my everything. You knew what I was thinking without me saying a word- You are a rare person just like me your mom. You were always trying to help others putting your own needs aside. You are such and beautiful soul with a tender heart. I will never understand the true meaning why you were taken so soon., You were my first born and brought joy to my life. You appreciated me and made me fell like I could be myself without being judge. You did not disappointment me at all. You were doing everything right. I was so proud of you- I questioned myself at times if I was raising you right- but everyone only had kind and positive words to say about you and the positive impact you had on their lives and told me I did a great job raising you. You were teaching me how to live again and how to be the better person. I know at times you were hard on yourself- but your wonderful in every aspect .Your an awesome son, grandson, best friend, brother, cousin, nephew. I love you and miss so very much. My life- our lives will never be the same. I hope you can see the love here on earth everyone has for you. I hope to meet you again someday- hold you , love you and kiss you. Love your mom Nan

I met him once and knew what a beautiful person he was. He had such a bright future. My heart broke for you the moment I heard what happened. He touched every heart of each person who met him. I am in utter disbelief of your great loss. He was so wonderful I cried when I heard. I will continued to pray for you and your family for your loss. The world's loss of this beautiful young man of yours.
