“ As Morgan's maternal grandparents, we recognized quickly the wonderful fellow she had chosen to love. Likewise Nick's commitment and love for Morgan was manifested in one that was deep and true. What a sweet, kind, unassuming, laid-back, fun-loving, intelligent, talented, and kind guy he was! We have such fond memories of our times spent together with Nick. We hear his laugh and picture him enjoying his Capri-Sun drinks. He catered to Morgan's every need and was so willing to help Morgan every Christmas with decorations for my mother. Many times they would decorate, have dinner with her, and then play games. Mother thought Nick's prime occupation was as an electrician because he did such a nice job of hanging her Christmas lights. Not realizing how short life is, Nick taught us a valuable lesson. We feel so saddened that we never openly expressed our love to him. He was a beloved family member who will always remain in our hearts. We praise Nick's parents for raising such a remarkable son and pray that all who knew and loved him will dwell on the treasure trove of memories he provided to us! RIP, sweet Nick, and know you are deeply loved by us.

“ Nick was my boss at save a lot. When I had my twins and when they passed he was the first person at work I told. A few months later I had to fly out to Nevada and take emergency custody of my 4 day old nephew and 2 year old nephew. When I came back I went to show nick the babies so he new I was not pulling his leg . Seeing the baby nick said with a hug smile ‘ look at the baby so cute’. As soon as I found out I was adopting that little guy I told nick. He was an awesome boss who always worked along side us. He will always be missed. Thank you nick for all the support you gave me after the passing of my twins at hi to them on the other side. See you again later boss man

“ Many years ago, I called the Blevens house looking for Audrey. Nick answered the phone. He would have been about 9 at the time. Without knowing who he was taking to, he told me Audrey wasn't home. She was at Carrie's surprise 16th birthday party. My surprise 16th birthday party that hadn't started yet. I didn't tell him it was me, I simply said I would call back later. It turns out I don't much like surprises, so I secretly thanked him for this unintentional kindness. This memory makes me smile, and I hope it makes you all smile as well. Sending you all prayers and love.

Nick always made the holidays fun at my house. He loved playing my games and always had a smile and a big hug for everyone. He absolutely loved seeing his name at his table setting and took a picture of it every year. I will always think of Nick every time I set the tables for the holidays. He will forever hold a special place in my heart. Thank you for letting him be a part of our family.

“ Nick taught me how to play poker. We would be in his basement and his mom would bring down those spicy chicken mini tacos and I thought those were the best things ever. We would also play paintball too somewhere in rock gate and behind Adams house. I believe him and Maddie even dated for a bit and I was fine with that because Nick was a great guy. Always had a smile on his face and was always kind. When he was around he made you feel like you were welcome which is what I remember and appreciate most about him. I'm going to miss him because he was one of the bright spots in my childhood. He never tried to impress you, but he was always impressive. My thoughts and prayers are with Nick's family and loved ones.
