“ Peter, I thought of your Mother so often but because of “life” I had lost track of her. I enjoyed the time she and I spent writing the cookbook for My Just Desserts. Please know that I have fond memories of her.

Goodbye, Pat, for the last time. You were always a traveler, on your way to or from some place you heard or read about. Always on the move, except when you were napping, which was another favorite activity. I will miss you very much. I often think of the adventures you took and sometimes brought me along on. You were always the 'idea person', never at a loss for ideas of places to go, people to see, things to do and how to laugh. I've been lucky to have spent much of the time of my life with you close by to answer my questions or stir up some fun. May you finally rest softly on the cloud of your dreams. Looking forward to seeing you in the next life. Love, Jude
