“ They say time heals all wounds, but I can tell you that missing you will not heal. I can only wait until the day that I can see you, stand with you and see your smile and feel your love again. You were my mother and will always be my mother and no amount of time will erase that. I know that you are now healed and walking with our Heavenly Father . Mom from the bottom of my heart I love you and will miss you until the glorious day when we will meet again . I promise to watch and care for my siblings just as you asked me to. I love you and will always do so . So I will not say goodbye but only until I see you again .

“ Mother I will mourn for one more time to speak with you , one more time to kiss you , and one more time to say, I LOVE YOU!
In time peace will umbrella over me knowing you are at rest , no pain, and no more earthly worries and struggles will you ever have to face again. My Faith in God will embrace me and comfort me as each day passes and you are not here with me. God is our refuge and strength in time of sadness. I can not count the endless times you have reminded me when I felt sorry for myself. I hope someday I can be the strong, amazing lady you were . “I CAN ONLY IMAGINE,” how beautiful your life is in Heaven. May you fly high now and forever. I Love You Mother.
