“ Prayers and sympathies go to all Rick's family and friends. Rick's character can be witnessed in his actions throughout the time I knew him and I can attest to his honesty, character and his true kindness to others. Rick had an infectious smile and gave from his heart to all his friends. Veteran, educator, patriot.....the list was impressive but friend described him the best. I suppose you and Bob and already planning some fun for when we all get together again. Peace my friend, you will be missed and the range will never be the same without you. Denzel.
