“ Rosemary was special to me. I use to work there! I made it a special point to see her every time I worked. My heart was broken when I was transferred. My daughters met her as well. A true jewel she was. I often wondered if she was still alive. Even though I knew she was so lost as many are in a place like that... I always want them to feel like I am familiar like they are my family because to me they were my reason. They were all my well, heart. I hope she rests easy now. I only cleaned there and it's funny to because I knew alot about the residents. I guess I just used cleaning as a front for my real operation of allowing them to talk to me, and make them smile. I would take any opportunity to wheel them to get hair done or whatever. I knew I wasn't suppose to but, I loved them very much!! I did really like cleaning it was important to me that the place NOT smell as best as I could. Rosemary, I seen her daily as if she was my grandma. Best part of going to my job....I'll be seeing you Rosemary.
